ಶ್ರೀ ಕೊಣದೊರು ಲಿಂಗಪ್ಪ.— ಸಮಗ್ರ ಶಾಸನ ತರುವುದು ಯಾವಾಗ ಮುಂದಿನ ಅಧಿವೇಶನದೊಳಗೆ ವರದಿಯನ್ನು ಸಭೆಯ ಮುಂದಿಟ್ಟು ಶಾಸನವನ್ನು ತರಬೇಕು ಮತ್ತು ಇದಕ್ಕೆ ಒಪ್ಪಿಗೆ ಕೊಡಬೇಕೆಂದು ಹೇಳುತ್ತಾನೆ.

Chair's Observation

re : Ministers etc. talking to Office s in the officers Gallery

MR. DEPUTY SPEAKER.— Before I take up the next Bill, I would like to just stress again the thing which has been repeatedly told here that the Hon'ble Minister who has got business before the House can alone approach the Officers gallery and is entitled to discuss; No other Hon'ble Member and no other Hon'ble Minister other than the Minister concerned can also do that. There are well-established precedents about this. In the Lok Sabha, the Hon'ble Speaker has stressed this. I am saying this because whenever the Presiding Officers are there on their legs putting the Bill to the vote of the House, these things happen and disturb the House. It is not good. It is necessary to maintain the dignity and decorum of the House and doing so, will add to the prestige of House which is a sovereign House. In this connection, once again I wish to read a paragraph from the Practice and Procedure of Parliament written by M. V. Kaul and S. L. Chakdher. It reads thus

"Functions of Civil Service Vis-a-vis-Parliament"

The civil service has become a power in the democratic state, although it remains, in the nature of things, a power behind the scenes. The Officers' Gallery in Lok Sabha, just behind the right side of the Speaker's chair, is often occupied to capacity by civil servants. Though they are not actual participants in the business of the House, yet they help Ministers in the performance of their duties. From time to time an anxious Minister may rise from his seat to seek enlightenment on an awkward point raised by a member or he may send one of his Deputy Ministers to get a few facts on a particular subject. The civil servants supply the necessary brief to enable the Government to reply to its opponents. The activities of the top civil servants are bound up mostly with the current parliamentary business when Parliament is sitting. Parliamentary business keeps the civil service busy with much of the work such as preparation of Bills, replies to questions in the House and to informal letters addressed to Ministers by members, compilation of notes for the use of Ministers during debate, briefs for their speeches in the House, etc....."

I say this because I have good will and respect for everybody. I say this with an anxiety that the decorum and dignity of the House should be maintained as this is the sovereign House which controls everything.

SRI KONANDUR LINGAPPA.— We congratulate you, Sir.

MR. DEPUTY SPEAKER.— Now the House stands adjourned to meet tomorrow at 1 P.M.

The House adjourned at Fifty Seven Minutes past Five of the Clock to meet again at One of the Clock on Tuesday the 11th May 1976.
